OUTSTANDING: Biscuit-maker Paul Bray of La Femme du Boulanger, Castellet

Biscuits to drive for

NESTLING in the hills behind Bandol, in the picturesque village of Castellet, you will find the renowned biscuit shop, La Femme du Boulanger.

In 1938, Marcel Pagnol (better known for Jean de Florette) set his film The Baker's Wife, in the shop. Paul Bray, the patissier, experiments with colour, texture and ingredients to produce delicacies that attract biscuit lovers from afar.

Specialities include tarts with walnuts and honey, hazelnuts and orange, or dried fruits.
